Laguna Seca Races Set For This Weekend

This weekend the world's top-ranking sports car drivers will compete for prizes at the Laguna Seca Race Course. This road race is the third in a series of eight races to determine the official United States Road Racing Champion for 1968. Promoted, sponsored and organized by the Sports Car Racing Association of the Monterey Peninsula, SCRAMP will donate the entire profit to charity. During the 10 years of its existence, the organization has donated more than $500,000 to local charitable organizations from the net proceeds of the races at Laguna Seca. The racers will drive 152 miles over the 1.9-mile Lagua Seca circuit with a total of 80 laps, nine turns per lap. Tickets may be purchased at SCRAMP headquarters at the USO Building in Monterey.

Local Groups In Pop Concert At Sunset

Three Carmel Valley youths combined their efforts and ingenuity to organize a Local Pop Concert for this weekend comprised wholly of talents from the Peninsula.

Joe Shabram, Steve McClaran and Shannon Breeding took the initial idea and worked it into a two-night stand chocked full of rhythm and "soul" music, featuring Carmel and Carmel Valley groups. Included in Friday night's entertainment are: "Morning Glory," "No Relation," "John Deacon Society," "Dhoop Factory," "Denver Overland Pony Express" and "Blue Grass."

On Saturday the lineup is: "The Snails" (formerly the "Talon Wedge"); "Garth and Dave," "Bitter Seeds," "The Chords," "Blue Grass" and "The Orpheus" (formerly the "Black Arm Band and Tosh").

The concert is scheduled for this Friday and Saturday beginning each evening at 8 p.m. in Sunset Theatre. Organizer Steve McClaren contradicted the Pine Cone's report that all tickets were sold and said, "There are still plenty of tickets and anyone can pick them up at the box office."

Directed by McClaren and Joe Shabram, the show will be emceed by Phil Cato, Shannon Breeding and Mark Lewis. Joan Snow was responsible for the creatively-designed posters placed about town and on cars.

All proceeds from the Concert will go to the Youth Center in Carmel Valley.

Youth Center Redecorating

Bill Bartlett has donated a 1965 Cadillac to the Carmel Youth Center and plans are now being formulated to auction it off to help pay for the refurbishing now in progress at the Center. The young people are working hard to obtain needed donations and money-making projects to help pay for the Carmel Youth Center's first major refurbishing in 19 years.

It is really a great tribute

'Send Me No Flowers' To Open at Studio

The Studio Theatre-Restaurant offers a gay change of pace on May 10 when the farce "Send Me No Flowers" succeeds the suspense drama "Wait Until Dark" closing May 4. In the new production, authors Norman Barasch and Carroll Moore turn the subject of hypochondria into a ludicrous comedy of errors.

It all starts when George Kimball, already the victim of imaginary ailments, overhears a conversation which convinces him that his demise is imminent. Ready to meet the end bravely, he tries to interest wife Judy in a suitable second husband and buys a cemetery plot for all three.

When Judy discovers that his health is actually perfect, she concludes his real motive is to cover up an illicit romance. On the advice of an inebriated friend and neighbor, George makes matters worse by confessing to the non-existent affair.

The show is enlivened by "dream sequences" in which different fantasies of George and Judy are enacted in vignette form. Naturally all is resolved and forgiven by the final curtain.

The Broadway production of "Send Me No Flowers" opened Dec. 5, 1960 at the Brooks Atkinson Theatre with David Wayne and Nancy Olson in the leads. Rock Hudson and Doris Day did a movie version that rather altered the spirit of the original.

Don Osborn is director of the Studio production with setting and lighting by Bob Evans, Jr. "Send Me No Flowers" was also done at the Studio about six years ago.

Following its May 10 opening, "Send Me No Flowers" will run Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights for six weekends before giving way to the summer musical season. Reservations for dinner and show or show only may be made at 624-1661 or 624-2321.

Theatre Review

CLOSELY WATCHED TRAINS . . . best foreign film Academy Award. A Czech film about a young assistant station master fighting adults. Humorous.

PLANET OF THE APES . . . An astronaut returns to earth after several hundred years to find that the world is dominated by Apes. Make up is marvelous and the idea is scary. The cast is great.

THE GRADUATE, interesting, if not completely compelling, comedy. Dustin Hoffman is excellent in the title role. Anne Bancroft is extremely good as the woman who seduces him and Katharine Ross is attractive as her daughter with whom Hoffman falls in love. The picture argues that all over 30 are dishonest, corrupt and unthinking.

HEAT OF THE NIGHT . . . Rod Steiger won an Academy Award for this one, justifiably so. A young negro policeman is picked up for murder in a Southern town, and ends up helping convict the true murderer.

VALLEY OF THE DOLLS . . . not as good as the book, but a fair Hollywood version for those who have not read the story.

WILL PENNY . . . stars Charlton Heston as a Western hero.

RED LINE 7000 . . . an exciting older war picture.

HOW TO SAVE A MARRIAGE AND RUIN YOUR LIFE . . . Dean Martin is tricked into a marriage by pretty Stella Stevens. Light and not at all challenging.

THE FLIM FLAM MAN . . . really a funny movie of a con artist and a fellow who is learning the trade. Fast and double dealing. A flick you don't want to miss.

YOURS, MINE AND OURS . . . a story based on Carmel's Beardsley family.

Photo Show

An exhibition of black-and-white and color prints by photographer Dave Allen, a Monterey Peninsula College student, will be on display in MPC library lecture hall during May.

The show, entitled "On People," may be viewed during week days and evenings when the lecture hall is not in use for classes or meetings.

At MPC Allen has been a feature and photo editor of the student newspaper El Yanqui and twice editor of "e.g.," the college's literary magazine. Currently he is employed as MPC's "official" photographer.

His photography, he says, is "mainly limited to people and the immediacy of their actions. It is through this immediacy that I am able to make 'chemical' statements which I hope reflect both the people I photograph and myself as an artist."

Eastern Turkey Slide Lecture

A kaleidoscopic slide show of Eastern Turkey and lecture by Prof. Harold Stump of the University of California at Berkeley School of Architecture will be shown at Monterey Peninsula College on May 18 at 8:15 in the Music Hall.

Prof. Stump spent last year in Turkey as a teacher. The 175 slides of the architecture, people and rich heritage of East Turkey were taken in remote areas only recently opened to Western visitors.

Tickets for this outstanding speaker are obtainable from Mrs. Edgar Bissantz at 624-7507. The event is a Citizens' International Student Committee benefit.

Rancho El Toro Golf, Country Club

Monterey Peninsula's only 18 hole par 3 golf club has reopened as the Rancho El Toro course. This most attractive property was acquired from the federal government at an Internal Revenue Service sale by the Colton Investment Company of Monterey.

The club house was the residence of the late Dr. W. Reeves of Salinas and was a landmark of classic colonial style on the Monterey—Salinas highway.

Ketto Azcarate of Carmel Valley is the new manager. His 30 years of golfing experience and the new revised and reduced green fees should provide an attraction for family participation. C.S.

Barney Jones In Vietnam

The division is carrying out search and destroy missions in Quang Tri Province and around the old imperial capital of Hue.

Pvt. Jones, a rifelman in Company C, 2nd Battalion of the division's 7th Cavalry, arrived in Vietnam in February of this year. He entered the Army in September, 1967. The Pfc attended Monterey Peninsula College.

Mountain Climbing Film Friday at P.G.

A film of world famous climber Allen Steck and two companions scaling the difficult Salathe Wall of El Capitan will be shown at Pacific Grove High School auditorium at 8 p.m. Friday, May 3. The high school group of the Ventana Chapter of the Sierra Club is sponsoring this event, with proceeds to go toward the fund for acquisition of the Jacks Peak proposed public park.

Steck, with companions Dick Long and Steve Roper, made the color film as they scaled the perilous Yosemite peak in 1966. It has been commended for artistic merit as well as for its spine-tingling thrills in showing the skills of rock climbing.

The movie will last about an hour.

Local Sierra Club members had the opportunity of viewing another exciting film of Speck and his party last fall, when at the Club's annual dinner they viewed a climb of Mt. Logan in the Yukon, along the famed Hummingbird Ridge.

OBITUARIES

Sol David Klein, Carmel Meadows resident, died recently. He is survived by his wife Wilhelmina. Funeral services by Paul Mortuary.

Carleton Byron Swift, Pebble Beach resident since 1954, died Sunday. Born in Easton, Pennsylvania in 1891, he was graduated from Harvard in 1914. For years he headed a cattlemen's loan company in Oregon.

In addition to his wife, Lila Leonard Swift, he is survived by his son, Carleton B. Swift of Washington, D.C.; three daughters, Mrs. J. Swift Boyer of Carmel, Mrs. Frederick Holdsworth of Hastings-on-the-udson, N.Y.; and Mrs. Donald Monell of Gloucester, Massachusetts. as well as 14 grandchildren.

Services were held in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea after which his ashes were sent East.

The Cottage of Sweets on Ocean Avenue is a most remarkable shop. It stocks candies imported from 18 countries in Europe. Of licorice alone, they carry 40 different varieties. They have Napoleon cherry drops from Belgium, for example, that taste like the cherries you put in pie. There are the tiny little fruit and perfume cordial drops like the ones we used to get as children. They even carry dietetic candies for slimmers, and luscious chocolates for those who don't care about their figures. New owners, Helen and Burnard York, hail from Los Altos, and previous to that from Portland, Oregon where Mr. York was a candy manufacturer.

Opening the Hatch Cover

Now, hear this, high school drop-outs. If you think higher education has little to recommend it—that the time and effort are wasted—that you can get a job anytime without it—let's stop long enough to review one more case in rebuttal . . . the case of "Tancredi, Mathey and the Hatch Cover."

But let's start with what you have to say: the time is wasted—you can get a job anytime. Sure you can get a job anytime—(1) thru' connections of family or friends, (2) thru' looking real hard, leaving no "job stone" unturned and/or being willing to take most anything if only to get started or (3) by having a special talent or acquired trade that is in demand.

Now the next step gets down to the "nitty-gritty", namely — keeping the job. With some exceptions you're not starting very high in the organization, in fact you are more or less on probation or you are filling a need that the boss couldn't find some one else to fill at that particular moment. Have you the mental and emotional discipline and the maturity to stay on the job and work it into a promotion? Or can you just get a job any old time — anytime you feel like it?

Wouldn't it be better to stay in school as long as possible, gain knowledge, maturity and discipline and then start your own business?

Mike Tancredi and Steve Mathey did — and then they started the Hatch Cover Steak House — open only a short time and already a success. Steve and Mike have not yet reached twenty five but they have a bachelor of arts degree and are more than halfway to their masters degree. Having graduated from University of Arizona together, it was at San Jose State where they were studying for their masters, that they went to work at Chuck's Steak House in Los Altos. One became general manager and the other assistant general manager. With this as experience and learning that they loved the restaurant business they decided to open their own — hence, the Hatch Cover.

But, you say, it is easy to open your own business if you have the money. What business on the Monterey Peninsula with such a capital outlay opened for cash? What banking institution, supplier or parent will loan them money or extend them credit until they have proved experience, knowledge, maturity and discipline.

Young people, get your education as long as you can so that you can gain knowledge and maturity. Work for someone like Mike and Steve until you gain experience and working discipline. Then, if you wish, start your own business — but whether you do or not you will be prepared to move up the ladder of success in someone else's organization. C.S.

Grandpa Hodges' Chest Swells

Lynn Hodges, owner and operator of Mission Ranch Stables, had quite a weekend thumping his chest in victory for his granddaughters who cumulatively won eight first, eleven second, and seven fourth place prizes in various horse shows in California and Arizona.

Closest to home at the Rodeo Grounds in Salinas, granddaughter Sharman Smith took first places in the Western Equitation, Western Trail, Showmanship at Halter, and Best Appearing Horse and Rider; second place in Western Equitation Open, Western Trail Open, English Pleasure Open and fourth place in Western Pleasure and Western Pleasure Open. Sharman won high points by a margin of three times over her nearest competitor.

Meanwhile, in Arizona, granddaughter Vickie Saxton won four firsts, four seconds and three fourths. She, too, won High Point Rider. Vickie's sister Kathy in the same show won three seconds and two fourths.

Sharman, a 15-year-old Carmel High School student, took most of her wins mounted on "Juan Bueno" the same horse which was attacked and seriously injured several months ago by a dog on Carmel beach. Sharman and "Juan Bueno" missed four shows and tried to make up for lost time during the events in Salinas last weekend.

Chamber Symphony Review

by Rachel Morton, formerly critic of the Long Beach Independent-Press Telegram

The sixth concert of the Carmel Music Society presented the Chamber Symphony of Philadelphia, Anshel Brusilow, conductor, at the Sunset Auditorium, Friday night.

With the very first down beat, one felt that here was an "Autocrat of the Baton", a conductor who manipulated his 36 players as a general commands an army.

And as soldiers well disciplined, the players responded through-out the evening, with meticulous precision and uniformity.

This, coupled with the fact that there were 36 first-class instrumentalists in the ensemble, made for orchestral playing of the finest. Actually, in the big moments of climax, the effect was comparable to a full-scaled orchestra.

But discipline, and fluency and display do not necessarily achieve the greatest of performances. Too much regimentation destroys sensitivity. There must also be a subtle communication with the heart of the music to move one emotionally.

Perhaps the programing was at fault — too much of the same type of music. Mozart and Haydn and Beethoven are a big dose of early German music.

A welcome change of diet came after Intermission with the moving music of "Cantus Animae et Cordis' for string orchestra by a contemporary composer, Yardumian, a Philadelphian. Although atonal in design, the music was not only palatable but richly colored and deeply moving.

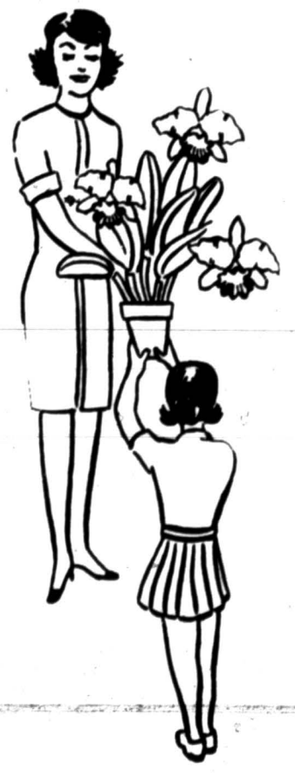

Variations on a theme by Tschaikosky by Arensky, based on a song entitled "Legend" seemed to grow a bit monotonous toward the end because of a paucity of ideas.

The Overture to "Don Giovanni" by Mozart suited the conductor and players ideally and they gave it a robust performance.

Likewise the Beethoven Symphony No. 4 and the Symphony No. 4 of Haydn were well performed, metronomically speaking.

For an encore, Mr. Brusilow, taking the audience into his confidence, explained that a member of the orchestra, Carlton Cooly, the first violist, had written a musical travesty called, "Vexations on a Well Known Theme." Beginning seriously with Schumann's "Traumerei", there followed a pot-pourri with snatches of popular and classical music which proved highly amusing.

Wedding at Carmel Wayfarer Church

A recent Carmel wedding was that of the former Christina Didrichsen of Carmel to Ensign James Lloyd Bareuther of Pensaccola, Florida. The ceremony took place at the Church of the Wayfarer with Reverend Karl Vit officiating.

Maid of honor was Miss Beverley Blout of Carmel, and Christina's sister, Miss Sandra Didrichsen, and Miss Jean Tweedie, both of Carmel, were bridesmaids. The bride wore traditional white and carried a large bouquet in which white daisies, forget-me-nots and violets were combined.

Christina is the daughter of Mrs. Marlynn Speers Didrichsen of Los Gatos. She attended Monterey Peninsula College and San Jose State College of which her new husband is a 1967 graduate.

After their reception at the Naval Postgraduate School, the couple flew to Pensacola where Ens. Gareuter is stationed.

Alliance Bazaar

On Saturday May 11 between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m., the Alliance Française will hold its annual popular bazaar at the Cypress Lodge Club on Lincoln between 7th and 8th in Carmel. Those items which are much needed for the success of the French kermesse (bazaar) are: kitchen utensils and baking dishes; art pieces and bric-a-brac; books and new clothes for ladies, men or children. Homemade cakes, cookies, pies, preserves or jellies will also be greatly appreciated. Needlework, costume jewelry, linens, or towels, new, of course, will also add to the attraction.

Anyone wishing to donate please contact Mrs. John Dowdakin, chairman, at 659-2356, Mrs. Sean Flavin at 373-3987. Proceeds will send a qualified student of French to Paris this summer to continue her studies in Paris at the School of l'Alliance Francaise.

Great-grandmother

Mrs. George Kennedy, often identified on Carmel streets by the white cane given her by the Lions Club, is celebrating the birth of a great-granddaughter. Her daughter, Betty Bartlett, who works at the Wells Fargo Bank, and husband Capt. Gene R. Bartlett, are pretty excited too. The baby's mother, Mrs. Gene Bartlett, Jr., was graduated from Carmel High School. She and her husband, Staff Sgt. Bartlett, are stationed in San Antonio, Texas.

English Gardens

Mr. Carl Bensberg, known to many as "the owner of the house with the thatched roof" near the Carmel Mission sang several songs for the Church of the Wayfarer Voyagers last evening. He was accompanied by Connie Carruth.

He also showed slides of English gardens and of the huge rhododendron in Ireland. Mr. Bensbuerg is widely traveled. He plans to leave early in June for the British Isles, this time taking with him his Volkswagen which he purchased abroad on his last trip.

Back from Vietnam

Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Parkhurst of Carmel are happy and relieved that their son, Robert, is now back from Viet Nam and stationed at Long Beach.

Sierra Club Grows With Activity

Francois and Patience Leydet, of Sierra Club "Format" books fame were down from San Francisco for a weekend, visiting the James Tysons at Carmel Point while they were here.

Recent new members from Carmel of the Sierra Club are Mrs. J. L. Hughes, Miss Larissa Robinson, Brian T. Smith, Riley Twohig, and Elwood J. Wilson. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Glen Smith of Pebble Beach also joined not long ago.

Frankenstein At Art Museum

On Friday, May 17th, the Carmel Museum of Art on Dolores Street will present a guest lecture by Alfred Frankenstein, renowned Art Critic of the San Francisco Chronicle.

Mr. Frankenstein's subject, "Sleuthing Among Still Lifes," is one of the most intriguing detective stories in the history of American Art and is based on two decades of research during which he studied works by the early American precisionistic still life painter, William Hartnett (1848-1892) — and discovered two other forgotten painters of the period, John Frederick Peto and John Haberle. Interest in these early Trompe-l'oeil artists is increased today because of constructivist work, assemlage-collage, pop art and similar "return-to-the-object" movements. The slide lecture is presented as a special supplement to talks on the history of painting which the Carmel Museum of Art gives regularly on Thursday afternoons at 4 p.m.

Mr. Frankenstein is well-known as a brilliant and witty speaker. No introduction to him is needed in this community, where he has often given addresses at the Bach Festival. He was Music Critic for the Chronicle for many years, as well as having served as Art Critic since 1942. A teacher (University of California at Berkeley, Mills College, Harvard, the Salzburg Seminar in American Studies, and the Free University of Berlin), Mr. Frankenstein is also author of several books: After the Hunt; Angels Over the Altar; A Modern Guide to Symphonic Music. The lecture will be given at 8 p.m. in the Carmel Museum of Art on Dolores Street. It is for members, but the public is cordially invited for a small donation, and within limited seating capacity.

Carmel High School Arts Festival

by Gail Cottrell

The works of the Picassos and Michelangelos of Carmel High School will be shown at the exciting new Arts and Crafts Festival Saturday, May 4 from 3:00-9:00 p.m. in the C.H.S. gym.

Students and members of the community are encouraged to come as they will have the chance to see some of the exquisite and provocative works of Carmel High art students.

The practical art classes which will be contributing to the festival are the arts, pottery, and humanities. A wide variety of exhibitions will be displayed ranging from mosaics of individual's intrepretations of God, to fascinating sculptures and jewelry. Many of the artists will be at the festival in order to explain or discuss their creative efforts with any interested guests.

Admission is free, but refreshments will be sold with the proceeds going to buy books for the arts and crafts classes.

Adding to the variety of the festival will be music teacher Henry Avila and his popular showband giving an afternoon performance at 4:30 and an evening performance at 7:30.

Even though the Laguna Seca Races and Carmel Pops Concert are that weekend, art teacher Bill Stone, the coordinating chairman of the festival, is hopeful for an enthusastic and successful turnout of the entire community.

Photographic Essay and Wine Tasting Party

A special wine tasting and pre-publication gallery exhibition of Mrs. Stephen McCann's photographic essay "Open the Door and See All the People" will be held at Doc's Gallery on Cannery Row May 5 from 1:30 to 10 a.m. Public is encouraged to attend.

The photographs by Stephen Moore, Brooke Elgie and Lequita Taylor will be enlarged up to 20x24 and displayed along with the inspirational copy elequently written by Mrs. McCann in a manner to which everyone can understand.

"The reason for the party," Mrs. McCann said, "is to introduce the book and raise money for the publication and distribution." She emphasized that this is a totally non-profit venture.

Her goal is to stimulate national action to improve child-care facilities for working parents, and to encourage the change of outdated laws. Copies of this essay will be distributed throughout the United States, especially to congressmen, mayors, educators, newsmen, and magazine editors.

Mrs. McCann' began her book over a year ago and received her inspiration from a meeting in Pacific Grove of poor women "who were earnestly trying to start a child-care center so they would have a safe place to leave their youngsters while they were out to work."

"Open the Door and See All the People" is a most interesting essay, and Mrs. McCann offers her solution to revising present day laws in (Continued on page 13)

We may live without poetry, music and art;
We may live without conscience and live without heart;
We may live without friends; we may live without books;
But civilized man can not live without cooks.
He may live without books,
what is knowledge but grieving?
He may live without hope, what is hope but deceiving?
He may live without love, what is passion but pining?
But where is the man that can live without dining?

From A Librarian's Notebook

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg, City Librarian

Ruth Newhall was born in Berkeley and remembers the Panama-Pacific International Exposition of 1915. Thus she was a natural to write a book about the restoration of the Palace of Fine Arts, and she did. The book is called SAN FRANCISCO'S ENCHANTED PALACE, and it is fine bookmaking because it was published by Howell-North of Berkeley. There are many beautiful photographs, with a text by Mrs. Newhall, and one of these photographs is a picture of Bernard Maybeck the architect who designed the Palace . . . and also this library. This is a book you will enjoy before you go up to see the restored Palace.

Of both historical and literary interest is a small book entitled POEMS WRITTEN IN EARLY YOUTH by T. S. Eliot. There are 12 poems.

The next book is a rather disturbing one. It is called THE NEW INDIANS and it was written by Stan Steiner who tells the story of the Indians as they would want him to tell it. He lived all over the United States with various Indian tribes and he says that the Indians are on the move. Their cry is "Red Power." There is also a Red Muslim movement. Living in dreadful poverty, neglected and ignored, the Indian is now taking a leaf from the black man's book and is rebelling. He is angry and eloquent. Listen to his tom-tom and heed his voice in this book.

T'AI-CHI is said to be the "supreme ultimate exercise for health, sport, and self-defense" among the Chinese but to perform the exercises correctly the person must become as a little child. This may be more difficult than the exercises themselves. The new book by Cheng Man-Ching. To begin you learn to relax, slump your shoulders, move slowly and gracefully and subordinate your arms to to your body movement. Anyone for just jogging a while?

Commodore Matthew Perry was known as "Old Bruin" and that is the title of the biography about him written by Samuel Eliot Morrison. The nickname he earned by his gruff way of giving commands. The Commodore came of a family long connected with naval history and it was unthinkable that he should choose any profession other than a naval one. His career included helping to found Liberia, hunting pirates in the West Indies, commanding a squadron in the Mexican War, and being part of the expedition which opened Japan. He was an illustrious "OLD BRUIN".

A beautiful book is CHINESE BUDDIST BRONZES by Hugo Munsterberg. Great for the coffee table if impressing guests is your bit, but even better if you are interested in Chinese art or in working in bronze. The book has 130 photographs of rare bronze figures, and although only one is in color, all are both interesting and beautiful.

Math Committee Recommendations

Detailed steps of what is taught in math and when it is taught, in other words, scope and sequence, from kindergarten through high school, is badly needeed in the Carmel School District, according to findings of the committee on math, headed by George A. Gustafson, principal at Tularacitos, as outlined before the school board last week.

In-service training of teachers to familiarize them with the new books and materials, to work out tests, and basic tests for algebra, was recommended for this summer.

Supt. D. Harris J. Taylor suggested that part of the $9000 in uncommitted funds was available to be used to implement the program. Two teachers could be hired for the summer to develop a program of math and tests. There is an especial need for good diagnostic tests to find out where the student is, he said.

The retirement of Mrs. Dorothy Schlote, first grade teacher at River School, was accepted with regret. The resignations of two teachers from Middle School, Sherina Friedlander and Jean Hayden Parker, were accepted the previous week.

B. B. Roessler Receives Air Medal

Army Sergeant Branimin B. Roessler, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Roessler, Route 3, Carmel, received the Air Medal April 6 near Cu Chi, Vietnam.

Sgt. Roessler earned the award for combat aerial support of ground operations in Vietnam.

An information specialist in Headquarters Company, 1st Battalion of the 25th Infantry Division's 27th Infantry near Cu Chi, Sgt. Roessler entered on active duty in March, 1966, completed basic training at Ft. Ord and was stationed in Germany prior to his arrival in Vietnam last January.

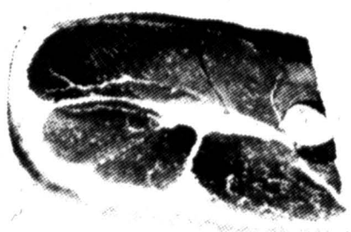

The sergeant, who also holds the Combat Infantryman Badge, is a 1963 graduate of Monterey High School and received an associate of science degree in 1966 from Monterey Peninsula College.

Carmel Travelers

Mr. and Mrs. Ted H. Lachelt of Carmel recently sailed from San Francisco aboard the American President Lines' luxury liner, SS President Cleveland, bound for Hong Kong. Mr. Lachelt is Travel Escort for Project Concern. The couple, who are making their fifth cruise via APL, will remain in Hong Kong until May 8 when they will return to San Francisco on the President Wilson.

Travel Film Lecture for Woman's Club

Having the gift of being on the spot when excitement occurs, Dr. John Nicholls Booth has penetrated remote and strange corners of the world to photograph in color his "South Seas Saga" which he will present and narrate for the Carmel Woman's Club at their regular monthly meeting on Monday, May 6 at 2 p.m. in the Clubhouse.

Author, explorer and photographer, Dr. Booth focuses in this film on the part of the Pacific world mapped by Capt. James Cook 200 years ago — visiting Tahiti, New Guinea and Australia.

In New Guinea, called "the Stone Age Island," Dr. Booth sought out the war-like tribes in the mountains, where he was ambushed, and had the opportunity to observe at first hand the primitive methods of archery, rubbing sticks to make fire and using stone weapons. In the western highlands, he found some of the world's most primitive people still living as their ancestors did thousands of years ago.

Visiting Australia, Dr. Booth takes his viewers to Brisbane, said to be the world's largest city in land area, and shows this country's amazing animals. On the 1250-mile-long Great Barrier Reef, he shows underwater tropical fish and the coral formations unique to this part of the world.

In Tahiti, Dr. Booth circles the island completely, showing the capital city of Papeete, and numerous places associated with this romantic spot, including the lodge once occupied by Robert Louis Stevenson. Throughout his travels, Dr. Booth concentrates on people in this part of the world sometimes called a "museum of humanity."

Educated in the United States and Canada, Dr. Booth has been a special correspondent for American newspapers and is one of the very few Americans ever allowed to take an expedition over the lofty Himalayas into mysterious Tibet. He has lectured extensively in colleges and universities and before forum groups throughout the country.

Hostesses at the door for the meetings during May are Mrs. Eugene Ingalls and Mrs. John T. Hidalgo. Mrs. Walter Adams, Mrs. Franklin M. Dumm, Mrs. Beulah J. Gilman and Mrs. F. E. Gould will preside at the tea tables for the May 6 meeting.

Wearing Bird of Paradise feather, paint and nose decorations, three Muntka tribesmen of New Guinea's Western Highlands engage in a sing-sing.

Music Notes: Bach Mass in B Minor To Highlight Festival

With the forecast giving the highlights of the 31st annual Carmel Bach Festival, July 19-28, mailed to season ticket holders across the country, expressions of delight are pouring into Festival headquarters in anticipation of two performances of Johann Sebastian Bach's Mass in B Minor, universally lauded as the world's greatest contribution to liturgical music.

Forceful, intensely dramatic and tender, with lightning changes of mood, Bach's epic Mass, telling the story of Christ's agony and crucifixion makes awesome demands upon the conductor, the soloists, the orchestra, chorale and chorus.

Accomplishments of the Mass as a whole consumed 10 years of Bach's life, 1723 to 1733. During that decade the Kyrie (Lord have mercy upon us); the Gloria (Glory be to God on high); the Credo (I believe in one God) the dramatic and triumphant Sanctus (Hosanna in the highest) and finally, the tender Agnus Dei were performed as individual anthems in the cathedrals of southern Europe.

It was the composer's ambition to win the title of Court Composer to the Electoral Prince of Saxony who was at that time also ruler of Poland, that inspired Bach to weld his five sacred masterpieces into one great Mass, the Mass in B Minor.

Upon mounting the podium in Sunset auditorium on the evening of July 19, Sandor Salgo will celebrate his 13th season as Director-Conductor of the Carmel Bach Festival.

Ticket information may be had by writing to Carmel Bach Festival, P.O. Box 503, Carmel, California, 93921.

Hungarian Pianist Nadas at MPC

Istvan Nadas, critically acclaimed pianist and recording artist, will appear in recital Friday, May 3, 8:30 p.m. in the Monterey Peninsula College music hall.

His concert, presented by MPC's community services office with the assistance of Miss Angie Machado of the college's music faculty, will be free to the public and no tickets will be required for admission.

The program will include "Chromatic Fantasy and Fugue" by Johann Sebastian Bach; "Sonata in A Flat Major, Opus 110" by Ludwig von Beethoven; "Suite, Opus 14" by Bela Bartok and "Sonata in B Minor" by Franz Liszt.

Nadas studied piano in his native Hungary with Bartok and Luis Kentner and composition with Zoltan Kodaly.

Nadas' repertoire includes over 50 concerti and solo piano works, and his frequent tours have become highlights of musical life in the United States, Latin America and Europe. His numerous recordings have been greeted with unqualified praise from the critics.

Last summer he completed a tour of 40 recitals given in Fiji, New Zealand and Australia. This summer he will return to New Zealand to perform in seven recitals the cycle of 32 Beethoven sonatas and to conduct seminars at the University of Dunedin.

REPORTS FROM RLS

By Chandler Meloy

Only Six Hectic Weeks To Graduation

Like the rush of a hurricane, the Spring semester is now nearing completion with banquets, recitals, championship contests, formal dances, and final grades. There is a certain excitement about the waning days of any school semester that adults can look back on in fondness, and that you'll look forward to with relief. In any event, here is a review of the past week:

The baseball team has been having a full season of close wins and losses . . . plus a big win over Pescadero last Friday as they won 15-6. Art Lara and Mike Greene have been sharing pitching honors, with hard hitting by John Cann, Eric Haas and Eric Paulson. Dave Basham, Gordon Bradley, and Tom Hill have been middle-strength players giving the team a balanced attack, with plenty of help from Barry Biggerstaff, Paul Lindersmith, Dave Greb, John Reily, John Urist, Craig Hill and Barry Nathan. Managers Ricky Kair and Jeff Jahn have also assisted Mr. Zury and Cdm. Kinion in fielding top teams.

The speakers finished second in the Gonzales Speech Invitational this past Saturday, giving the team no less than second in sweepstakes in all tournaments this year, including two firsts. Star speakers this time included Bill Kondrat and Steve Dart with first in Varsity debate, Gary Novak and John Sharon with a tie in Junior Varsity debate, and with Steve Stremmel and Jon Merksamer taking a fourth in Novice Debate. Other winners in individual events included: Claude Wynn and Arlen Chase with thirds in varsity and novice oratorical analysis; Tom Gardner was 4th and Byron Hillstrom 5th in novice impromptu, and Joel Harris had a perfect record of all firsts to take first in varsity impromptu, followed by Dan Daly in second, Gary Bechtel in third and Bruce Decker in fourth; Flint Stickney took 4th in novice interpretation; Don Hart took third, Steve Russell 6th and Rich Johnson 7th in novice oratory. This Friday, Bruce Decker, Lonnie Foy and Jim Russell compete in the state-wide California Speech finals with the top 400 speakers in the state. This is the largest number of entries Stevenson has ever had, followed by two last year, and one the year before.

The swim team has been active every week with meets of importance and last week they defeated North Salinas and Hollister high schools with the JV's taking second behind North Salinas. Winners in varsity including team Captain Pete Cowden with two firsts, Dave Inks with a first along with Bruce Burrell and David Haynes. Both RLS relays were first, and others placing and adding points to the 74½-58-14½ win were Mike Morel, Jeff Smith, Jim Booth, Perelli-Minetti, Ed Taafe, Gary Groth-Marnet with Morel

Christian Science Sunday Sermon

"Everlasting Punishment" is the subject of this week's Bible Lesson to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday. The services at First Church of Christ, Scientist, Monte Verde and Sixth, Carmel begin at 11:00 a.m. and 8:00 p.m., and are open to the public.

The Golden Text from Psalms sets the theme: "Unto the upright there ariseth light in the darkness: . . . Surely he shall not be moved forever: the righteous shall be in everlasting remembrance."

The Bible Lesson also includes passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, among which is the following: "Mortals move onward towards good or evil as time glides on. If mortals are not progressive, past failures will be repeated until all wrong work is effaced or rectified. If at present satisfied with wrong-doing, we must learn to loathe it. If at present content with idleness, we must become dissatisfied with it."

All Saints Rummage Sale

The All Saints' Church-women are making preparations for their Annual Rummage Sale, which will take place Thursday, May 16, in the Parish Hall (Lincoln and Ninth, Carmel).

Mrs. A. Davis Whelchel has named the following women to her committee: Miss Elizabeth White, Miss Elizabeth Woods, and Mesdames, Kirke Erskine, Catharine Simard, Robert Slaughater, Robert Priestley, Karl Scherer, Ronald Rico, Ronald Scheffler, Stuart Blythe, Thomas C. White, R. V. MacDonald, Edwin Ewig, Cecil Paul, Vera Jackson, Charles Leachman, Donald Hayes, John Anton, Walter Lehmann, Charles Shedd, Eben Whittlesey, Clifton Beckwith, E. H. Santee, James Downey, Stanley Pearce, Arthur Templeman and Rene Coleman.

Rummage is being received in the Church Patio from 9 to 1 each day until May 16, or will be picked up by calling Mrs. Robert Slaughter (624-5775) or Mrs. Catharine Simard (372-4169).

On the day of the sale there will be a snack bar open from 11 to 2 and luncheon will also be served.

Baby sitters will provide service the day before the sale for workers, and on the day of the sale for guests from 10 to 2.

Madonna Display

A display of madonnas, carvings, ceramics and paintings from the collections of members of the Altar Society will be shown at its next meeting on May 9. It will be as usual at Crespi Hall at 2 p.m.

Miss Gretchen Wahl will be installed as president for the coming year; Miss Margaret Blackburn as vice-president; Miss Mary Miller as secretary, and Mrs. Frank J. Sieve as treasurer.

Tea will be served by the hostesses for the occasion, the Mesdames M. McCarthy Gless, Lloyd Campbell, Whiting Reed and Frances Erskine.

Watchtower Convention This Weekend

Convention time for Peninsula Jehovah's Witnesses is here again, according to Francis Goetz, Palo Colorado, presiding minister for Carmel and Pacific Grove members of the group.

Local Witnesses will join delegates from San Jose, Los Gatos, Santa Cruz, Morgan Hill, Gilroy, Hollister, Watsonville, Salinas, Soledad and Greenfield Congregations in a May 3-5 Circuit Assembly at the Santa Cruz County Fairgrounds in Watsonville.

William Lange of Carmel will again be in charge of baptizing new ministers at a Watsonville pool.

Michael McGibney Earns Gold Wings

Navy Ensign Michael D. McGibney, son of Mrs. Richard H. Wright of Route 3, Rotunda Road, Carmel, was awarded his Wings of Gold and designated a Naval Aviator during ceremonies at the Naval Auxiliary Air Station, Kingsville, Tex.

While undergoing training at Kingsville, he was assigned to Training Squadron 21. The mission of the air station is to train student pilots in their final phase of jet aviation. The three squadrons based at Kingsville designate more than 400 Navy and Marine Corps aviators each year.

Ensign McGibney, a 1961 grauate of Carmel High School, has received orders to report to Naval Air Station, Oceana, Virginia.

Do you know what Christian Scientists really believe?

Relatively few people do.

They are often surprised at the logical and understandable theology of this Christian religion. In fact, many people have become Christian Scientists when they have discovered how clearly it relates the teachings of the Bible to living in today's world.

regard to funding, operation and licensing child care centers.

Mrs. McCann said, "If we can establish the philosophy and the facilities to accomplish our purpose, changing and re-evaluating our laws and regulations to fit conditions in the latter half of the 1960's instead of plodding along with a 1910 child care attitude, we will have come a long way toward eliminating the racial and economic frictions that plague our country today. "The purpose of the book is to stimulate just such a change in our thinking, and in our laws."

New owners Inge and John Borg accept the Hide-A-Way master key from previous owners George and Florence Popoff and their daughters, Greta and Pauline.

Hide-A-Way Inn Has New Owners

A man may take practically a lifetime to become a recognized expert in one line of endeavor—and then chuck it for another. He may devote his full energies and heart to being the trouble-shooter, the shock troop and the organizer for a large corporation, moving from spot to spot where needed, till finally he says, that was for them, now this is for me and mine.

Jack Borg, native of Czechoslovaki, trained in hotel schools, has spent his life till now in hotels, mainly as food and beverage manager and organizer, though frequently he was the hotel manager or assistant manager. From 1950 till now—with one brief interlude—he was with the Western Internation Hotels all over the West, Hawaii and Canada. Among other interesting positions, he was manager of the Space Needle for several years.

But now he has done with the restaurant business—forever, he says, and will devote himself to his acquisition, the HIDE-A-WAY Inn, Junipero and 8th, Carmel. His lovely wife Inge is delighted. Now it is their home, their business and her husband! The life of a hotelier means long hours, as well they know, but their hours will be shared together in the place of their choice.

But now the community bids farewell to George and Florence Popoff, owners of the Hide-A-Way for 17 years. They and their daughters Greta and Pauline return to their home in Beverly Hills; Mr. and Mrs. Popoff to retire, Greta to some fortunate studio and Pauline on to graduate school. They are sad to leave their friends and the community, but those who sampled and judged Florence Popoff's food at the Monterey Fair are sadder still. Mrs. Popoff leaves with a hat full of blue ribbons for the honors she has won there over the years.

Carmel loses but gains, so the scales are balanced again.

Comment On All-Year Schools

More American schools are nailing up "we hardly ever close" signs.

Traditionally, schools have stayed open less than 8 hours a day in a 24-hour day and less than 180 days in a 365-day year. Thousands still do. But other thousands now no not.

New schools are being built with a branch of the public library and the school library combined, with a swimming pool open to the neighborhood, and rooms for civic societies to meet.

Some inner-city children have long looked on their schools as hostile fortresses locking them in for part of the day and out for most of it. Now more inner-city schools are opening early and closing late for after-school activity appealing to all ages.

Many schools report a drop in vandalism, truancy and delinquency in the wake of this stay-open policy. More library books are being checked out, more parents are joining in school activities, and more school bond issues are even passing.

A Boy and a Girl

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Roberts Snorf of Pebble Beach became the parents of Sally Jo on April 18. Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Curtis Donovan of Sycamore Place, Carmel have a baby boy named August Herbert who arrived on April 21.

"I know I should subscribe to the Pine Cone — I've been reading it for a long time," said the Carmel lady who came to the office to pay for a classified ad. "But I can't bear to give up my little-boy salesman — especially now that I've finally gotten him to say thank you!"

Finall, our congratulations to Mr. Ricklefs for his new appointment as a Trustee of the Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies. Mr. "R" was added to the board with Mr. Joseph Cotton and Mrs. Wesley Heard.

Lines from Lois . . And Geoffrey Chaucer

"May, with alle thy floures and thy grene
Wel-come be thou, fair freshe May . . ."

And these homes are welcome as those flowers in May because they're fresh as daisies and clean as the meadows after the spring rains. They were planned so that the gardens would be constant delights, but never chores—and when this goal is really achieved, you'll know one of the greatest charms in living on a small Carmel lot in Carmel's urban forest.

CARMEL ROTARY LOVE-IN

The Russians celebrate May Day with a public display of their strength. Of course, this is also a time for many to give flowers in demonstration of their Love. Led by their president, Tom Brown (Who wore his white Russian uniform, from Hollywood), Carmel Rotary members showed their love to their wives (Rotary-anns) with a special luncheon meeting at the La Playa Hotel. The menu included Cornish game hens and champagne. Each Rotary-ann was given a Japanese Iris corsage in the Rotary colors of blue and gold. Dr. Peter Mutke spoke on the increased uses of hypnotism and made a demonstration with member Dr. Joseph Morasco.

to our Carmel Youth that no names have been written or carved into the walls there but just normal time and use have called for redecorating.

Considerable help on this project has been given by Mrs. Fred Godwin, Mrs. Roberta Hancock and the Crosby Fund.

Although Mr. James Kalber's two children are now too old to be Youth Center members, he is still very active in helping whenever possible. Mr. Kalber is division manager of Chris Craft's National Automotive Fibers plant on Cannery Row. He recently arranged for his company to supply the carpet for the bandstand floor.

Redecorating

All of his efforts are so appreciated that he was made an honorary member of the Carmel Youth Center Adult Board at last Wednesday's board meeting.

Other community organizations helping out include the MPVS, Lions Club, Kiwanis and Rotary.
